House Votes Five Billions for Defense, Biggest Bill in History.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 31 .-By bluntly warning that Great Britain may be prostrate in 30 days, and the United States menaced simultaneously from two directions, Secretary of War Stimson today urged immediate military conscription, while a senate committee worked out a compromise peace-time draft bill for submission to the senate.

At the same time, the house, in drowsy, sparsely - attended, three-hour session, passed what may be history's biggest appropriation bill-nearly five billion dollars for warships, warplanes, guns and an almost endless list of preparedness items.

Aviation Gasoline Embargo. The day also brought what many considered a significant development in the imposition of an embargo-ordered by President Roosevelt-forbidding the shipment of aviation gasoline to non-American nations, except for the se of American interests abroad. Late in the day. President Roosevelt signed into law a bill appropriating $25,000,000 to increase the power production capacity of the Tennessee Valley Authority. The project, sponsors said, would provide power for the production of aluminum used in MARIETTA, Ga., July 31. Lewis Turner, tall, saturnine but with a pleasantly low southern voice, told his sensational story of the murder of the Peeks without hesitation, giving verisimili-tude to the recital by frequent in-clusion of non-essential but colorful details.

He swore that Jason Clark, convict at the Carroll county camp, sérving a life term for murder the drunkened Peek in the back of the head with a machine hammer, and that John Holonbach and Bill Chappell fastened the rope around the neck of Mrs. Peek which strangled her. Chappell was named as the man poured kerosene over both. This followed hours' of drinking at different rural hot spots on a tour initiated, he testified, by Bill Chappell, who had told him and Clark early in the afternoon he wanted them to go along "on a little party.

Hears Argument. A few days before, declared Turner, he had overheard an argument between Chappell and Peek, in which Peek had declared: "Aw, hell, Bill, you know that's not right." Shortly afterward, the witness asserted, Chap-pell said to him of Peek: There's a man that ought to be bumped off."

Peek's business was that of a "county equipment salesman," Turner said. He was seen often at the Carroll county camp, but did not deliver any orders or packages. On numerous occasions, however, swore Turner, Peek took things away in his automobile, including boxes of canned goods, floor wax and truck tires. Bill Chappell "ran the camp,"

"It is my intention to fully inform the people of the many and vital improvements made during my administration in a series of public speeches, a general out-line of which will be given by me in a radio talk at 7 o'clock tonight. "Virtually Bankrupt."

When my administration took office, Atlanta was virtually bankrupt, its equipment worn out, its waterworks neglected, its bonds in technical default, with a staggering deficit and tremendous sums wasted for interest on scrip and borrowed funds.

"Underworld characters openly boasted of their political influence, and an all-time high had been reached in traffic deaths and injuries on our streets. The public is familiar with our drastic economies in an effort to remove this deficit, and also with the various open, public meetings wherein practically every civic organization and people in all walks of life were invited to give their opinion as to how best to put Atlanta back on her feet. "Plan Success."

"Out of these dark days grew the finance plan which has proved such a success. The public was taken into our confidence, indeed they approved at the polls certain necessary constitutional amend-ments. We promised them Atlanta would never again go into debt or spend beyond its means, and that promise has been rigidly kept.

Young Stars Have Big Problem

By Sheilah Graham.

teen-year-old Susanna Foster lies awake these nights wrestling with a big problem. She's the star with Allan Jones in Paramount's "There's Magic in Music," which is swell when she's singing. Susanna hits high C above C, but she does not sing all the time. And that's where her problem comes in. Susanna is at the awkward age. She is all arms and feet. Her director is going quietly nutty, trying to get her to walk gracefully. At the moment she finds it easier to shuffle into her scenes. Judy Garland is another film star youngster who has this same trouble. Both gals could take a leaf from Deanna Durbin's book. And I do mean book. Deanna was put through the book-on-head routine by her older sister-which accounts for her attractive carriage.

Barbara Stanwyck steps aside at a recent preview, and when husband, Robert Taylor, asks her yours. As long as you've got it the fans will want you. But," continues Barbara, "one day that widow's peak will recede; then you've got to have something to take its place." She means he must be a good actor. "Waterloo Bridge" was the first of Taylor's pictures to get the approval of his wife. With a gal like Barbara beside him, how can Bob fail?

"Jimmie, darling, you make it so difficult by pinning me down to just 'yes' or 'no'!

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

NEW YORK CITY.—I motored down to New York City this morning and it was a very pleasant drive. The minute one arrives in the city, one is conscious of the fact that no city can be a really pleasant place in summer. The mere accumulation of sidewalks, streets and buildings and, above all, people in great numbers, makes it impossible to feel cool. I shall be glad when I am home again this evening. Yesterday I read a most interesting pamphlet which contains an account of a school run by a Mr. Mongasen, who is an expert on saving time. However, he does it not only by the old device of eliminating motions and speeding up. He proposes asking everybody to think how they can cheapen the production of the products on which they are working, on shortening the processes, and he assures us that nobody will lose a job thereby.

There are two reprints of articles by William Hard in this little booklet, both of which are interesting. One elaborates the theory that the way to bring back prosperity is to make it possible to buy nore with our incomes by cheapening the cost of products and employing more people because of the greater volume of production. In the second article, he links this economic theory with Mr. Mongasen's theory of all people in business using their intelligence and yet being assured that they will not lose their jobs.

If this could be done it would, of course, answer much of the difficulty which we have experienced in the development of machinery, which has thrown people out of work instead of giving them the benefit of reducing drudgery and increasing the output and their leisure time. In his articles, Mr. Hard points out that we have reached a point where only co-operation will meet the present

We must have business and government working together. There is no use in continuing the mutual recriminations which have been going on because, in the face of the present emergency, both business and government suffer. We need all the efficiency which this country can develop, plus an understanding of the situation which faces us both in Europe and the Far East, and which should tie the whole country into unified co-operation.

I am still hearing considerable comment about the compulsory military service bill. The general feeling seems to be that, if we are going to have military service alone, it should be voluntary and not compulsory, and certainly the age for a year's service should be 18, before a boy gets a chance to start anything else in life.

Future service for short periods, in order to keep his efficiency, is looked upon as necessary. But, when we are not in a war, the general feeling that I encounter is that we should remain, where military service is concerned, on a voluntary basi

Oh yes they do. But the difference between those that carry on after losing their dear ones and those who sit down and cry is a matter of courage-that grand virtue which we all must cultivate if we are to meet the vicissitudes of life. Courage to swallow our tears, forget our griefs and do our duty by those who are left. Ever think of it, courage and selfishness don't go together.

Nobody would minimize the anguish a mother feels at giving up her little girl any more than we would minimize the anguish of thousands of mothers all over the world today who are giving up their sons in bloody battles. But if every one of these bereaved parents quit the struggle and said "Nothing interests me any more," the younger sons and daughters left in the homes would grow up to be dour, sour emotionally crippled men and

That is exactly what you had planned, for if you are a smart wife you will have checked up on the ads and noticed that now is the time to buy some suits to "tide over" until the cool, crisp fall days

His temper will cool, if you suggest in the right manner, that you saw some values in town and perhaps, maybe, he would like to see them, he will agree to anything, just so long as you have his closet in order again.

Crisp Shirtwaister

By Lillian Mae.

If you're looking for a dress that's trim of tailoring yet soft of line . . . that's young and femiyet carefully slenderizing that's nice for home wear, yet able to go anywhere—this is it! Pattern 4509 is Lillian Mae's newest shirtwaist style for matronly women. That scalloped collar looks crisp in lace-edged white organdie or voile, with scalloped cuffs to match on the short-sleeve style. Notice that the action-free back is yoked as well as the front. The front panel in the skirt allows splendid walking-ease too. Let the illustrated Sewing Instructor help you to a professional and speedy finish! Pattern 4509 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 1-2 yards 39-inch fabric, 1-2 yard

Florence Holliday To Marry John McCord Next Sunday

. . MR. AND MRS. ELIE McCORD will entrain tomorrow for Wilson, N. C., to attend the marriage of their only son, John H. McCord, who has chosen lovely Florence Holliday to be his bride on Sunday morning. The ceremony takes place at the Christian church and will center the interest of hosts of admiring relatives and friends. John has lived during the past 18 months in Williamston, N. C., but recently was transferred to Fayetteville, N. C., where he and his bride will reside after their wedding

Beautiful and attractive, Miss Holliday graduated from Christian Col-lege. She possesses the brunet type of loveliness and is popular with Miss Fanny Holliday is her twin sister, and she is the daughter of Mrs. F. H.

Mr. McCord attended Marist College and graduated from the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. He belongs to the T. K. O. and Phi Delta Theta fraternities. He is connected with the Retail Credit Company.

The wedding of Florence and John takes place Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the Christian church in Wilson. The bride-to-be and the groom-elect are descended from prominent families in North Carolina and Georgia, and their forebears contributed to the upbuilding, development and culture of their respective communities.

• • NINETTE CARTER and

Jimmy Humber, of Clarksdale, whose engagement was an interesting announcement of Sunday, have chosen September 10 as the day for their marriage, that date marking the 80th birthday of the bride-elect's grandfather, Sandy Carter, of The ceremony will take place at 6 o'clock in the Emory Theological chapel, and, needless to say, Mr. Carter will be one of the happiest and most excited of the wedding guests.

Sentiment also influenced the selection of Emory chapel as the scene for the marriage, Ninette and Jimmy having both attended school at Emory University.

The popular couple will begin housekeeping in their brand-new home in Clarksdale, the construction of which will begin immediately. Jimmy spent last week in this city, and Sally hears that he and his bride-to-be were so absorbed in the interesting process of furniture-buying that they were even unmindful of the cavortings of the farenheidt!

EDNA AND LEWIS SMITH were among important and interested guests at wedding which took place recently in Saratoga, N. Y. The groom, Douglas Williams Mabee, is Edna's brother. His marriage to Prudence Brattle Mather was quite an outstanding event on the social calendar of last Saturday. and took place at Loudonville, quite near to Saratoga. The Smiths are visiting Edna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Walter Mabee, and will remain for the opening of the famous racing season, which always occurs on the first day of August. Mr. and Mrs. Mahee are highly esteemed Saratoga citizens, and they entertained • • • ATLANTANS returning from the Democratic convention in Chicago, brought interesting "bird's-eye view" notes of Atlanta-known personalities glimpsed during the cocktail hour at Chicago's famous Blackstone hotel.

For instance, there was Mrs. Walker Hill, of St. Louis, the former Adgate Ellis Gay, of this city, who was with her hostess, Mrs. Betty Baker, of Lazy Acre Farms, Barrington, Ill. Mrs. Baker, it will be recalled, visited here last summer as the guest of Mrs. Ryburn Clay, and was also a guest here last January when the former Mrs. Gav married Walker Hill.

Also in the party was Grace Ashley, the famous dress designer, who is Adgates intimate friend. Mrs. Ashley resides at Greystone, an hitsoric ante-hellum estate overlooking the Mississippi river, south of St. Louis.

Also glimpsed among the smart set at the cocktail lounge was Mrs. L. E. Johnson, of Oak Park, Ill., who will be remembered as Alma Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Golden Knight, of Buford. Alma, of course, was looking as lovely as ever, having acquired a deep tan from her honeymoon cruise to the tropical ports in the West Indies and South America.

Miss Alice Clements is visiting all next November, even though it voted for him two to one four years ago.

While the President is leading Wendell Willkie in popular strength throughout the state at present, his majority is 14 points below what it was in 1936, and 9 points below what it was in June, just before Willkie was nominated by the Republicans.

Thirty-seven staff interviewers for the Institute conducted the poll in California, asking a cross-section of voters the question: "If the presidential election were held today, would you vote for Willkie or for Roosevelt?"

Those expressing a choice voted 54 per cent for Roosevelt, 46 per cent for Wilkie. Approximately one voter in seven (14 per cent) said he was undecided at present.

The significance of this vote is apparent when it is compared to previous results in California. P. C. Dem. P.C. Rep.

Louis-Dreyfus Estate, Other Fortunes Also To Be Confiscated.

VICHY, France, July 31 .-(UP)-The French government of ordered confiscation of the wealth and private estates of Baron Edouard de Rothschild and Louis Louis-Dreyfus, who hold two of it was revealed tonight.

The names of Baron de Rothschild and Louis-Drevfus were included in the first unofficial list of Frenchmen prominent in finance, journalism and commerce who are to be stripped of their wealth under the Petain regime's recent decree punishing those who fled abroad at the time of France's collapse.

Those named in the list-many of them have fled to the United States—will lose not only fortunes and property but their French citizenship as well unless they appear and provide "good for their flight, it was stated.

The Baron de Rothschild and the Baroness de Rothschild, carrying a bag of jewels valued at $1,000,000 and accompanied by their daughter, Bethsabee, arrived in New York on July 10 aboard the Yankee Clipper from Lisbon after fleeing from the German occupation of Paris.

Both the Baron de Rothschild, head of the French branch of the famous international banking uties and importer of South American wheat, were prominent

"Sporting Blood," a first-run picture, will open today at the Rhodes theater. It is a horse race story, yet basically it is far more than merely the story of how an equine complex is overcome so that the horses can win the big race. It is the story of the overthrow of prejudice and the discovery by the hero that a woman's love is more important than anything else in the world.

With Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Lewis Stone, William Gargan and Lyne Carver heading a capable cast, the story breezes

Chicago To Trade In Cottonseed Oil

CHICAGO, July 31.—(P)—The Chicago Board of Trade will initiate trading in cottonseed oil futures August 19, officials of the exchange announced late yesterday.

The action followed a survey, headed by Edward A. Green, which found that many factors exist to make the Chicago market a logical one for a large section of the United States cotton territory. Receipts of cottonseed oil in the Chicago territory, Green said, are extremely heavy and many of the leading processors of the coun-try are located here and in oth-3 Udylite Cor .20e 4¼ 4¼ 4¼ 13 Unit Air P. 10e 12% 12 12 - ½ are located here and in other and in other and in other corrections at Chicago totaled 108, and the correction of the correction of trials gained more than a point, the steels slipped as much to close the session at their worst. The Associated Press average of 60 shares gained .1 of a point at Business Upturn in July 42.8. Transactions totaled 555,860 shares compared with 673,620 yesterday. The month's total, 7,306,-720 shares, was the lowest since August, 1918.

United States Steel, by slipping 1-4 points, indicated Street had discounted in the previous session's bullish trade the announcement of a $1 a common share dividend and the big corporation's improved earnings. At the same time, commentators generally said they expected America's rearmament program to speed up industry in increasing ratio, one authority stating that durable goods production in the last half of the year would be "from 4 to 5 per cent greater" than in the first six months. In the curb advances were re corded for American Potash &

Chemical, Aluminum of America, American Cyanamid "B," Hammermill Paper and Sherwin Willams. Most of the oils in this mar-ket declined.

Big Upturn Noted In Steel Pay Rolls

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)— The steel industry added 25,000 workers to its pay rolls in June, making the highest total for the Iron & Steel Institute announced

Average employment for the month, the institute said, was 535,000, compared with 510,000 in May and 451,000 in June last year. The June, 1937, total was 556,-

Steel pay rolls increased to $77,388,000 from $75,184,000 in May and $61,150,000 in June, 1939. sows cents compared with an average of 85.1 in May and 84.8 in June last year.

United States Department of Labor estimates for June showed a marked upswing in employment in war industries, notably shipaircraft, engines and machine tools.

Sugar and Coffee.

Sugar and Coffee.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Sugar futures rode an even keet today in the face of a cut in refined prices in southern territory to the lowert levels in history. The domestic contract closed unchanged to 1 point higher. Sales totaled 199 lots. World futures sarged to new lows for the year, cloring be to 1½ points net lower. Sales were 61 lots.

Savannah Sugar Refining dropped its quotation to a 4.15-cent basis, and other refiners were reported to have followed in the affected territory. This equaled, after deduction of the 2 per cent cash alowance and the excise tax of 53½ cents per hundred pounds, a net cash price to the refiner of 3.532 cents a pound, a record low. Locally refined remained at 4.20-4.35 cents.

In the raw market no sugar was openly offered below a basis of 2.70 cents delivered, reflecting a generally firmer position.

Riggs Rallies To Beat Alloo InThird Round

Geurnsey Upsets Hunt; Surface Loses; Elwood Cooke Wins.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 31.—(P)—Bobby Riggs, of Chicago, overcame a 4-0 deficit in the third set and pulled out a 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 decision over Eddie Alloo, of Berkeley, Cal., in the third round of the Meadow Club invitation tennis tournament today.

Alloo, leading at 5-2 in the decisive set, held two match points against the national champion. Riggs then reeled off 13 consecutive points, dropped the next two. won eight more in a row, and ran out the match against service, holding Alloo to three points in the last five games.

Gil Hunt, of Washington, D. C., seeded sixth, was upset by little Frank Guernsey, of Orlando, Fla., former, patients. former national intercollegiate champion, 8-6, 6-2. Hank Prusoff, of Seattle, rated behind Hunt in the draw, won from Hal Surface, of Kansas City, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, and will be Riggs' opponent in the round of eight.

The other upper bracket rivals in the quarter-final round will be Frank Kovacs, of Oakland, Cal., and George Toley, of Los Angeles. Kovacs scored at 6-3, 6-2 over Seymour Greenberg, of Chicago. Toley eliminated Bobby Harman, of Berkeley, 7-5, 6-1 of Berkeley, 7-5, 6-1.

Elwood Cooke, of Portland, Ore., seeded fourth, entered the quarter-finals with a 6-4, 6-3 triumph over Larry Dee, of San Francisco.

Cooke will face Fred Schroeder, of Glendale, Cal., who turned in a 6-3, 1-6, 6-4 decision over Sidney Wood, of New York, who completed the seedings at No. 8. The fourth quarter-final will pit Guernsey against Don McNeill, of Oklahoma City, who defeated Jack Kramer, of Los Angeles, 11-9, 4-5, 6-4. In successive weeks at the beginning of the month, Guernsey dropped both his intercollegiate crown and New York state cham-pionship to McNeill.

Brown Rapidly Reaching Peak For Big Fight

Ben Brown, pride and joy of Sam Sobel, is getting in a mood he hasn't been in since his last fight with Teddy Yarosz.

Take it from Mumblin' Sam, Blastin' Benjamin hasn't showed as much stuff in prefight drills since his workouts for Yarosz here last summer. Brown currently is working at his training camp at Groover's lake preparing for his August 8 engagement with Mid-dleweight Champion Ken Overlin at the ball park.

After sparring six rounds against Jabbin' Foots, George Basil and Gene Stafford yesterday, Brown stepped from the sweatspotted ring and stood restlessly while Sobel took the gloves off. As the sun-tanned boxer walked off for his rubdown, Mumblin'

"Yessir, he gittin' in de mood for dis one."

According to Sobel, there has been something wrong with Ben either physically or mentally in all his recent fights. But there won't be this time. Brown is developing a new style of fighting for Overlin and Sobel still expects a seven or eight-round

"I got confidence dis time," he explains. "I know Brown is a bet-ter fighter than Overlin and he'll be in shape. Brown knows he can beat him, too. That's why he's working so hard. He wants to win dis one more than any he's ever had. Just wait and see.

Instead of resorting to a calendar, baseball men can tell when August is just around the corner by the behavior of the Memphis baseball

There was that little item in the paper the other morning about the Chick manager and one of his players being hailed into court at Chattanooga-on a d. and d. charge.

That partly indicated where the Chicks are heading, and a great bat-throwing exhibition Tuesday night at Chattanooga was conclusive evidence of the inner feelings of the Chickasaws.

They are falling apart-again. It's a little different with them this time. They were on top by a wide margin when the yippies got 'em last year. This time they simply were challenging the Crackers for second

On consecutive days the Crackers have secured two former Memphis stars.

Buddy Bates, the latest acquisition, generally was regarded as the best center fielder in the league last year. He is a right-handed batter. The Crackers are using three lefthanded hitters in the outfield at this time.

You can go hunting bear with B-B's when they are of the caliber of Besse and Bates.

False Front They try to appear so blase, writers in New York do, but actually they are the worst victims of hero worship, H. G. Salsinger, sports editor of The Detroit News, finds.

Dealing specifically with the Yankees, Salsinger

'Nowhere in the country do ball players draw as much superlative praise in the newspapers as in New York. Going overboard for the home favorites is supposed to be a journalistic failing confined to the hinterlands, but New York leads the country.

"After Joe DiMaggio had two years of major league experience he was hailed in the metropolitan press as one of the immortals of the Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker and the other great outfielders were tossed aside as so many minor leaguers. DiMaggio was installed as the all-time center fielder.

'Joe Gordon had been in the league one year when he was pronounced the best second baseman in the game. Charlie Gehringer, they grudgingly admitted, was good at one time, but Gordon was great. They never gave a thought to Bobby Doerr, of Boston, as good defensively as Gordon and certainly a better hitter than Gordon.

"Bill Dickey was 'the greatest catcher of all time.' Johnny Kling, Roger Bresnahan, Mickey Cochrane—who were they? Dickey, the lackadaisical receiver of the Yankees, made you forget all other "Red Ruffing was the best right-hander in the game, Babe Dahl-

One of the year's strangest home runs was hit by Richards in the fifth. Willie Duke deflected his drive in fair territory, near the foul line, and thought the hall was foul. That's what Willie gets for thinking. He let the ball roll to the stands. Richards jogged around the bases. A great argument ensued, but it all acced up to nothing but a homer for Rich-

Stengthening for an August on-slaught, the Crackers yesterday acquired Hubert (Buddy) Bates in a deal with Toronto. Bates, star center fielder of the Memphis Chicks for two years, will report Friday night for the opener of the Baron series. For two years Bates handled more total chances than any oth-Southern League outfielder. Last season he had a batting average of .321 and his hit total included 40 doubles and 18 triples. It is expected that Bates, a right-hander, will replace Jack Suydam in center. Suydam has played brilliantly, but the Crackers are top-heavy in left-handed

"I think our deals of the last couple of days may indicate we're serious about overtaking those Vols," President Earl Mann said yesterday.
"Big Besse is certain to help us, and we have reasons to be-lieve our pitching staff will be all right now."

Bates, who was sold by the Boston Bees to Toronto, has been with the International club all season. The Maple Leafs are not having such a hot year and up to now Bates' has not had a batting average to write home about. However, it is well known what kind of a ball player he is. He should help the Crackers plenty. Mann has been trying for some time to make a deal for Bates, and it required some rather clever manipulation to put it through. In acquiring Bates and Besse in the last couple of days, the Crackers have obtained perhaps the two best players on the Mem-phis team last year.

So Says

Mr. McCollum-"A thread too finely spun will easily break."

THE same is true when you try to stretch your pay check too far. If you've got a dozen or more obligations scattered around you don't get far, do you? Now, why not consolidate them my painless way? Remember you can get $50 to $1,000 repayable over ONE OR TWO YEARS at low interest. See me at the Seaboard Loan Corp., 12-14 Pryor St., S. W. WA. 5771.

THE MORTAL STORM

Karl Tells Freya She Is Welcome There. Olaf and Fritz Are Released From Prison

By PHYLLIS BOTTOME.

SYNOPSIS.

At the vast Maberg estate, where Freya Roth is recuperating from an illness following the death of her Communist lover, Hans Breitner, Freya suddenly discovers that she is about to bear Hans' child. Previously she has gone about frimly silent, even contemplating suicide—and all the while unaware that Hans was killed by Fritz Maberg, her aristocratic admirer, at the order of her own stepbrother, Olaf von Rohn, a Nazi. She thinks that Olaf and Fritz tried to help save Hans, and anticipates the wedding soon to take place between Olaf and Sophie Maberg, childhood sweethearts. The will to live once more restored in her, Freya studies her medical books avidly, is supremely happy because of the child to come. She looks forward, too, to the visit of her father, Dr. Johann Roth, celebrated Jewish scientist, and does not realize that all the delays of his visit have been occasioned by the fact that even the Mabergs, old friends of the Roths, are afraid to invite even a renowned Jew to their home. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

To Olaf, this regular rigid life had no great drawbacks. It was merely a number of set tasks for all the world to him and he feared that his generosity might not outlast the strength of his desire.

Terms Cut Short

When the new gas mask "con tainer extension" became officially known in London as the "contex" the tendency to shorten terms was noted. One contraction was "Nazi." Many persons were calling the ministry of information "Minnie." It was also suggested that the house of commons be-come "Hoco," the house of lords "Holo," and the ministry of supply "Minsup."

FORT OGLETHORPE, Ga., July 31.—Danger of high waters in the Chattanooga flood protection district, as pointed out by E. L. Chandler, chief engineer for the district, has given rise to the fear here that Fort Oglethorpe and the Sixth Cavalry might be cut off from all areas north, east and west in a time of national emerwest in a time of national emer-

Mr. Chandler said that despite the series of storage dams constructed by the TVA, a very real danger of high waters still exists. Pointing out that Fort Ogle-torpe itself would not be inundated by flood-stage waters, Colonel John Millikin, commanding the Sixth Cavalry, declared in an interview here today that all important roads, railroads and com-munications lines to the north, east and west would be flooded.

With maximum flood stage at Chattanooga, the Sixth Cavalry or any other body of troops sta-tioned at Fort Oglethorpe would be forced to detour many miles to the south in the event troops were needed in an emergency, he said. Such a rise would also cover the road from Fort Oglethorpe to Lovell field, Chattanooga's munici-pal airport, a vital link in the defensive strength of the Chattanooga area.

Though the maximum flood stage of 60 feet has only been reached once in Chattanooga's history, at a congressional hearing several years ago, engineers made it clear that a high of 70 feet was

CITY EMPLOYES

IN GUARD PERSONNEL.

When the 179th field artillery pulls out of Atlanta at 9 o'clock Sunday morning for a 21-day intensive training period, city employes will be represented in its officer and enlisted personnel.

Colonel Thomas Alexander, teacher at Tech High school, commander of the regiment, has pick-ed many of his officers from the ranks of municipal employes.

Four captains are city workers. Captain Frank A. Kopf, of Battery A, is a teacher at Tech High; Cap-A, is a teacher at Tech High; Captain Rex W. LeFevre, of the third battalion staff, is city engineer of streets; Captain R. C. Endicott, commander of Battery F, is arson inspector in the fire department; Captain Ray Nixon, commander of the residual teach the commander of the co of regimental headquarters, is an engineer in the construction de-

Four first lieutenants are among the city employes. They follow:

James K. Bell, battalion adjutant, engineer in the construction department; Wyont B. Bean, executive officer of Battery B, assistant engineer of the construction department; Eli E. White, executive officer of Battery B, teacher at Maddox Junior Migh school; Harry Phillips, assigned by the quartermaster department, inspector for the city fire depart-

Private Emory Williams, driver for the city construction departalso will be among the trainees.

The unit will proceed to Camp Shelby, Miss., with full equipment of 155-millimeter guns for the first time since it was converted from an infantry organization. Dr. W. V. Jackson, dentist of the city school department, also will leave Sunday to take his post as a member of the dental corps at Camp Beauregard, Alexandria, La., and Captain L. F. Thigpen, aide in the city office, is awaiting instructions to proceed, probably within the next few days, to Mac-Dill field, near Tampa, for training in the aviation corps. Captain Thigpen is attached to the quartermaster department.

C. M. T. C. ENROLLEES ON OVERNIGHT HIKE

End of the "era of sore feet" was celebrated by C. M. T. C. trainees yesterday afternoon as they frolicked at Black Rock Country Club after a six-mile march which left them cheerful and ready for play.

Hardened by four weeks of strenuous drilling and accustomed to the heavy, high-top army shoes, the column moved briskly from the Fort McPherson camp area to Black Rock, pitched tents, and completed establishment of camp before the noon mess.

There was not a single com-plaint of blistered or sore feet at the end of the march, and some of the trainees, after lunch, hurried out to the golf course and got in 18 to 27 holes by brisk tramping over the wooded fairways and roughs of this popular and tough course. Many other non-golfing trainees spent the afternoon swimming in the lake.

Putting into effect all the lessons they have learned about marches and encampments, the trainees carried their rifles and belts and full pack, including shelter tents, mes kits, and blankets to sleep on.

They had supper at 5:30 o'clock, and will breakfast at 6:30 o'clock this morning before starting back to the Fort McPherson camp area on the second phase of the march toward the end of the 30-day training period.

Field equipment will be turned in this afternoon, and tomorrow will be visitors' day.

There was some talk that the Democrats in Georgia were going in for a more aggressive cam-paign than they have in the past to combat the competition from their Republican brethren. It was held that the revival of the Home-stead might be one of the cogs the campaign machinery.
Meanwhile, Republican Candidate Wendell Willkie and his run-ning mate, Charles L. McNary became officially qualified in Georgia with the filing of a no-tice in the office of Secretary of State John B. Wilson by H. W. Mason, chairman of the Republican national convention.

Wilson said no list of electors was filed, but that these did not have to be in until 30 days before the election.

The Republicans in Georgia, it was pointed out by one of their leaders, do not expect to carry Georgia in the coming election. Although they are out to get as many Willkie votes as possible, they are working more for the future than anything else. Eventually, they hope to build up the strength of the Republican party in the south.

Attract Four Types.

In the November election they expect to attract four types of voters: (1) the dyed-in-the-wool Republicans; (2) the anti-third termers; (3) the Democrats who are opposed to the New Deal, and (4) those who have a strong admiration for Willkie as a man. Governor Rivers, in a front-page editorial in his Ed Rivers Weekly seemed alarmed over the Republican threat. He said: "A knock - down - and-drag-out fight will be staged in Georgia this year to carry it for the Re-

Welfare Director Tells Heads He'll Handle News Releases.

By/LUKE GREENE.

Braswell Deen, director of the State Department of Public Welfare, yesterday invoked the gag law on division heads of welfare department, informing them that no one should speak for Braswell Deen except Braswell Deen.

The welfare director called the division heads in for a conference and told them that hence-forth he would handle all news releases for the department and that when he was out of the city that authority would be delegated to Paul Stevens

Cites Hatch Act. Queried about the order yesterday afternoon, Deen said he called the division heads in to point out the danger of talking too freely under the Hatch act, but that during the course of this con-ference he told them that they were not to give out any information to newspapermen concerning the department.

Under the new, rigid order not even the two members of Deen's family whom he recently placed on the pay roll will be authorized to speak for him.

The welfare director did not make it clear whether the same policy would be followed with reference to records of the depart-ment. Deen first said that when newspapermen wanted records they would have to come to him, and that when he was out of town

British Pursue Japan Spurns Nazi Raider in British Protests South Atlantic Against Arrests

Battle But Flees Under Smoke Screen.

LONDON, July 31.—(UP)—A German sea raider prowling South Atlantic waters escaped in a cripkilled and seven wounded, the admiralty reported today. A search is being made for the raider, the admiralty added.

(Indications were that the British naval units which took up the chase where the Al-cantara left off were in con-siderable strength and possibly included the famous cruiser squadron which finished off the German battle-ship Graf Spee outside Montevideo harbor, according to the Associated Press.)

In Rio de Janeiro, the British embassy said the battle occurred late Monday near Ilha, Trinidad, about 600 miles off the Brazilian coast, which is within the inter-American "security zone." According to a statement made by Dr. Bereaguer Cezar, secretary of the nter-American neutrality com-

ATLANTA, GA., AUGUST 1, 1940.

The Blood of Patriots

Should the present puppet government of France go through with announced plans to try former French leaders for "war guilt," it will afford but one more evidence-where none is needed-of the coldblooded perfidy of Ger-

The men listed for trial include nearly all those who withstood the enemy until they could resist no longer. Daladier, Reynaud, Delbos, Gamelin, Blum, Mandel, etc. Now, in tragic irony, they are accused of "bringing about France's military disaster," by the very men who betrayed their country into the hands

There can be no doubt that the trial, if it is held, will be but a puppet show with the strings manipulated by Hitler and his gang, though the official announcements will pretend it is the spontaneous action of the present French leaders themselves. Of course, there is nothing spontaneous from official France of today. It is as much subservient to the orders that emanate from Berlin as is any minor officialdom in Vienna or Warsaw.

There is no suggestion of trial for the French commanders of those armies which allowed the Germans to break through at Montmedy. There is no public denunciation for those who sold out their country by agreeing to German rearmament, because it meant profits for their own pockets. There is no trial looming for the Fifth Columnists who payed the way for the march of the Nazi legions into Paris.

Those only face trial who sought, to the last, to reawaken the old French flame of soul that gave to the world "liberty, equality, fraternity." Some of them may, at the end, face a firing squad. Others may be sentenced to life imprisonment. Such is the fate of those who, trusting German promises, conclude a treaty of "peace with honor." There is no such thing as "honor" in the Hitler lexicon.

If they hear such fate pronounced against them, they must know, as they die or rot in prison, that someday a France once again free will revere their memories. The ignominy they suffer now is but seeming for, in the hearts of true Frenchmen the world over there stand, already, monuments to their honor and it only awaits the passing of the Nazi horror from Europe for those monuments to become visible in marble and in bronze.

Meanwhile, the Germans may take what satisfaction they can out of some dictated decision of a puppet court, to absolve themselves of war guilt. Their own guilt is too deep a crimson for mankind ever to forget.

Modernizing the Police

Modernization of Fulton county's police department, now well under way, should be listed as one of the most important achievements of the county authorities this year. Under onditions of life as they are today, the criminal has an overwhelming advantage over any aw enforcement body which still attempts to perate on methods that were good a couple of

Much has already been accomplished in he "face-lifting" of the county police force, ut inevitably much remains to be done. It to be hoped that the good work will be ushed as rapidly as possible and that there will be no let-up in the improvement program entil Fulton has a police force equal to, if not etter, than that of any metropolitan county

First, and most important, steps taken inluded the establishment of a modern, efficient ystem of records. Today every officer is reuired to make a complete, detailed and prompt port on any crime, disturbance or accident he vestigates. By a cross-file system it is posle to keep a complete check on accident or iminal trends by locality and period of the e county force are now being trained on ow to obtain and to keep such data.

Installation of two-way radios on county lice cars is another valuable improvement. nirteen of these cars are now being so equipped and all will eventually have the radios, according to Dr. Charles R. Adams, chairman of the county commission police committee,

The assistance of the FBI in this local work has been invaluable. One member of the county force, Paul E. Dowis, was sent to the FBI school in Washington. It is under his direction that the new system of records is installed and he will continue to put to use the training received by teaching his fellow officers in the training school to be established this fall.

Fulton county has had, for many years, a police force of high quality personnel. The best of men, however, are hopelessly handicapped today if they lack equipment, knowledge and a systemized organization. Those lacks are now being remedied and the result will be, inevitably, a lowering of the unsolved crime record and an improvement in the safety and wellbeing of all the people of Fulton county.

On Building Planes

It has been reported that Britain has made proposals in the United States under which that country would purchase 3,000 war planes a month, with production at this rate expected by next January.

The plan has distinct and important advantages to this country.

In the first place, it would solve, for this portion of the defense program, the problem of amortization of the special plants which would have to be built. The British propose to take care of this with their orders.

In the second place, it would give the United States, without special outlay, a plane production capacity which would meet the requirements of the 50,000 planes a year desired, when added to the present production capacity of between 500 and 600 a month.

Still a third advantage to the United States lies in a clause of the contract which provides that all planes built for Britain would be subject to seizure by this government in case of emergency.

There have been commentators who have derided the suggestion that, under any circumstances, this country could be producing 3,000 fully equipped planes a month by January of next year. This school of thought insists such production speed could not be reached before 1943 or '44. Such pessimists display scant respect for American industrial and organizational ability.

The most reliable reports on present plane production capacity state that Britain is, as of July 1, turning out planes at the rate of 1,000 to 1,200 a month. They have not yet caught up with Germany in quantity, the Nazis reportedly building from 1,500 to 2,000 a month, but when the superior quality of British planes is taken into account, this puts the island kingdom almost, if not quite, on a par with its enemy.

Considering the miserably slow rate of production in Britain last fall, under the Chamberlain government, and the almost complete lack of co-ordination between plants making the various parts, this achievement, within some six or seven months, is little short of

If Britain, with her historic slowness to get started and with her insistence upon quality at all times, can jump her capacity to 1,200 planes a month in so short a period of time, it is absurd to say that American industry cannot be turning out 3,000 a month by next

If Britain can secure 3,000 planes a month from America, by January, to add to her own production, it is self-evident that Germany will lose the war, unless she can crush Britain during the remaining weeks of this summer, before the fogs and rains and proverbial English winter sets in.

As for men to pilot and to man those planes, Canada is reported as training at least 1,000 a month, with proportionate achievements in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and other units of the British Commonwealth. While, in Britain herself, the waiting lists of volunteers for the R. A. F. are said to far exceed the utmost training capacity.

RECALLING AN OLD SONG.

(From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch.) During National Employment Week Federal Security Administrator McNutt issued a suitable statement-the usual "few well-chosen words." Private employers hired 18 per cent more men during March than in the same month last year, he said. "Reports indicate that there is an increasing demand for workers," he went on. "Slowly but surely, the level of the country's great reservoir of idle workers is falling."

All of which seems to have reminded the gentlemen on Capitol Hill of that old folk song: may be so, but I don't know; it sounds so doggone Or, perhaps, they have no confidence in the great American panacea which requires only a name for a week to guarantee anything from doubling the sales of crocheted antimacassars to the elimination of all fire hazards. At least, they are taking no chances in an election year. The gentlemen of congress are talking about the allocation of additional funds to the WPA for the fiscal year that ends June 30. Senator Barkley has a plan for dipping into next year's funds to supplement the $1,500,000,000 already appropriated for the current one. There's talk on the hill that 600,000 names may be stricken from the relief rosters unless something is done-and the lawmakers feel that "something" will have to be more than the observance of a National Employment Week

THE CAPITAL PARADE

By JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

THE REAL APPEASERS WASHINGTON, July 31.—Behind the senate opposition to the conscription bill there is something much more unpleasant than the natural reluctance of politicians to face the facts in an election year. Speaking bluntly, there is the beginning of the same kind of movement to "appease" an onward marching Germany that has already destroyed every European democracy, and now bids fair to destroy the British Empire itself. The yammerings of men like Senator Rush D. Holt and Senator Robert R. Reynolds may, of course, be ignored. For the last four years the senate has steadfastly refused to listen to Holt on any subject, on any occasion. As for Reynolds, he is the man who adjured the United States to follow the safe example of Norway just one day before Oslo fell. But it is certainly time to be on guard when men of character and standing, such as Senator Burton K. Wheeler and Senator Robert A. Taft, show signs of readiness to participate in the new movement.

The signs are fairly clear, chiefly consisting in an apparently complete failure to grasp the nature of the situation which makes immediate conscription urgently necessary. The reason for the conscription bill is simple: In the opinion of the State, War and Navy departments, some form of German assault on South America would follow close on the heels of the defeat of England. Military action would be required to repel such an assault, and the present forces at the army's disposal are frighteningly inadequate for the purpose,

Both Senator Wheeler and Senator Taft stoutly deny that they are appeasers. But the denial is no sooner out of their mouths, than they question the necessity to this country of defending the entire western hemisphere. Neville Chamberlain lulled the fears of the British people, when about to accomplish his great triumph of appeasement, by describing Czecho-Slovakia as a distant land without importance to England. Wheeler and Taft see small threat to this country in the establishment of German Fifth Column regimes in Brazil, Uruguay and the Argentine. Both are flatly opposed to intervention to prevent such regimes from becoming established. declaring they will consent to sending expeditionary forces southward only in the event of open German armed attack.

If appeasement is taken to mean the policy of letting the outer defenses fall in the hope that the inner defenses will not be attacked, this attitude behind Wheeler's and Taft's opposition to the conscription bill is appeasement in its most glaring form. If the War and Navy departments correctly estimate the strategic situation of this country, Sir John Simon himself could have done no worse for England than these senators would do for the United States.

DEFENSELESS AS AN OYSTER For the truth is, both War and Navy departments firmly agree that once Germany has been permitted to establish a bridgehead in this hemisphere, the United States will be as defense-less as an opened oyster. The facts supporting this opinion are sufficiently plain to anyone who cares to face them squarely.

"EASIER THAN NORWAY" (1) If a Fifth Column uprising is successful in any South American nation, that nation will inevitably become a German base. Unless the United States has already taken the step of armed intervention, it will be impossible to control trade between the base and the homeland. Military supplies will be transported, whether the navy wishes or no, for there will exist no grounds to undertake preventive action.

(2) All South American nations are so weakly armed that even a comparatively small but well equipped air force in, say, the Argentine, will be enough to accomplish the downfall of Brazil. With Brazil will go the Natal area, a perfect base for aircraft, only 1,700 miles from Africa, and impervious to attack by us except from the air. The German air superiority over us is so immense only about 1,000 first-line planes in contrast to the Germans' 11,000—that dislodging the Germans from their base will be impossible. Furthermore, at this narrow point in the ocean, German planes based on Natal and on Africa will be able to protect from our navy German convoys bringing troops and supplies.

(3) Once a German base has been established in Natal, and supplies are available, it will be easy work for German aircraft to form a chain of bases up the Amazon and into Colombia, whence the Panama canal can be attacked with ease. And once the canal has been cut or rendered partly unusuable, the beginning of the end of the United States will be at hand. This may appear to be an alarmist blueprint of disaster. Yet the course of events described is seriously considered as a direly obvious possibility by the men most competent to speak in the defense services. Senators, who do not take the trouble to inquire what the country's strategic situation may be, can afford bland complacency. But when you hear a brilliant officer say flatly, "Really, it would be easier for them than Norway," complacency

NEW YORK, Under July 31.-Special License By this time news that the American Federation of Labor issues union charters which are frankly and notoriously used as warrants permitting the holders to rob the public treasury, the workers in the unions, workers who are excluded from the unions but permitted to work under special license of the racketeers and the general public. But proceedings are now going forward in the Treasury Department and the Department of Justice against a racketeer in Chicago named Mike Carrozzo, which deserves special attention. It is futile to expect that William Green or the present executive council of the AFL will do anything to delouse the house of labor, but the interests of the public, and especially working people in and out of the union movement, cannot be asked to mark time until the next an nual AFL convention on the offchance that the parent organizaion will get religion and do some thing about a filthy criminal condition which has been not merely permitted but actively abetted by the American Federation of

As these dispatches have reported before, Mike Carrozzo is gunman and a gangster who ived in the heart of the old Levee district, or line, in Chicago for several years when the area around Twenty-second street was a horrible stew, exclusively given over to vice. He ran saloons in the district and was an associate of the late, unlamented Jim Colisimo, who introduced chain-store methods to the brothel business.

Carrozzo landed in A Labor the United States 1906 from Racketeer in Montaguto, Italy, landed in Chicago three years later, reached his spiritual and moral level in the brothel district in 1910, and became a labor racketeer about 1918. He is now so rich-reputedly on graft extorted from the public treasury through conspiracy with crooked paving contractors and money extorted from thousands of poor, docile day laborers, under license of the AFL-that he owns a farm of 800 acres at Hobart, Ind., with a private exercise track for his race horses, an excellent commercial dairy farm and bottling plant and a portentious country mansion at Long Beach, near Michigan City Ind., with an outlying house for the accommodation of his guests.

This labor racketeer's parent inion is the International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers' union, which has not held an international convention since 1911. PROFITS UP 37 PER CENT An old conversation came back on reading an Associated Press In the midst of charges that Roosevelt has stagnated industry and made profits impossible, the Associated Press reported yesterday that the first 300 companies to report for the second quarter of 1940 showed profits a mere 37 per cent larger than for the same period

This large gain was made "in the face of increased taxes for defense purposes, and despite the fact that most leading corporations charged added taxes for the entire first half against second-quarter earnings.' Earnings of the first 300 companies rose to $319,829,000, compared with $232,688,000 for the same period in 1939.

"Excluding," said the Associated Press, "the relatively stable profits of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, net income of the group was 43 per cent greater than the same period last

The report continued, showing that steel had its best quarter since 1937; that the railroads, 18 companies, came steaming out of the red into the black; that nine railroad equipment-making companies had tripled their net profits; that 16 manufacturers of machinery also came close to tripling their profits; that the automobile industry, which had an increase in production in the first quarter, showed small gains in the second; 106 miscellaneous companies showed an increase of 58 per cent.

Most of this is due, of course, to the war in Europe and our own plans for preparedness. But, to the layman, this will not substantiate claims that the vital and necessary profit system is being destroyed.

News of increased business and profits is great news. If the news also will serve to clarify the campaign issues and restore them to a more normal and truthful basis that, too, would be good news.

THE HEAVY INDUSTRIES Some months ago George Googe, southern representative for the American Federation of Labor, brought to Atlanta a southern convention of the AFL.

During a luncheon given the officials, delegates, and industrial and business leaders of Georgia by Mr. Preston Arkwright, of the Georgia Power Company, I had the opportunity to initiate the first of two conversations with John P. Frey, of the metal trades department and one of the better-known economists of his organi-

It was one of his ideas that we could have no real recovery in this country until the heavy industries, makers of railroad equipment, heavy machinery, steel and associated industries, were stim-

This being true, it is entirely possible the report of the first 300 companies for the second quarter of 1940 may be of much more Our preparedness plans barely significance than ordinarily. are begun. They will be delayed by Senator Wheeler, by John L. Lewis and by their lesser imitators who have eyes and refuse to see and who put selfish interests above their country's welfare. Wheeler's position long has been known. The attitudes and statements of John L. Lewis have stripped that gentleman of many of his figurative garments and left him exposed as selfishly willing to scuttle the ship merely to obtain some measure of revenge. Leaders of his own union have deserted him in his position and it will be astonishing and alarming if the senate at all is in-

It is entirely possible the fall crops may bring the best prices The government properly will peg prices. The prices may be well above the pegged prices if nothing happens to upset the national preparedness plans

The lull in the war (at least the lull is unbroken as I write) has slowed up preparedness. It has given all those who want to obstruct the plans an opportunity to say that training is "not

Never Give Children Bitter Medicine if You Want Them in Good Humor for the Party

BY ROBERT QUILLEN.

News reports tell us that movie fans are staying away from war pictures in droves, being fully fed-up with martial drama, so common prudence should prompt writers to give war matters a rest. Moreover, no ordinarily civilized person enjoys writing about unpleasant things. When he does it, he is prompted by a sense of duty or selfishly trying to save his wife and children and friends or his own precious hide. It is possible, of course, that nobody needs saving-that the dictators have no intention of attacking our country or capturing other territory in this hemisphere and using it as a base for attacks upon us.

But if that is true, our present armament is all we need. And if it isn't true-if we really are in dreadful and immediate danger, our present efforts to build defenses are absurdly and dangerously and shamefully inadequate. I said here weeks ago that we could not arm our country in time without conscription of men and industry. The obvious truth of that statement has been proved elsewhere and is now being dem-No matter what the politicians and Chamberlains tell you, we are still as defenseless against modern war as we were when Hitler's triumphs first opened the eyes of our people to their own

Almost all advertisements extolling the virtues of a political candidate carry a picture of said aspirant, yearning to sacrifice himself upon the altar of public

The idea of an advertisement is to attract attention and inspire interest. I'll admit the candidates' ads do that.

But do they create desire? Do they set potential voters wishing tomorrow were election day, so they could rise at dawn and make haste to cast a ballot for the handsome man of their choice?

Or do the members of the great American proletariat remark, after clipping out the pictures of the entries and pasting them in a row: "Well, ain't that a bunch to pick from? I could go down to the courthouse and look over those "Five Hundred Dollars Reward" posters on the sheriff's wall and get a better looking average."

I have persistently declined to offer myself as a candidate for high office, though constantly urged by countless millions of ardent admirers who think I'd win in a walk and could I spare 50 cents until next Monday.

But if ever I do run for office and go in for advertising in a big way I'm not going to use my picture. I'll borrow a cut of Robert Taylor. Or maybe Ann Sheridan. In a bathing suit. Ann in a bathing suit can sell soap, lingerie, camera films, sport model cars or canned soup. Maybe she could sell me. Anyway, it would give her a grand workout.

Hated Friends.

Nothing irritates me more—or not much more—than to receive a pretty picture postcard from a friend in the mountains or at the shore with a scrawl: "Grand here. Sleeping under two blankets. Come on down." Or "up," as the case may be.

Writing like that to a chap sweltering at a desk is like writing to an old pal: "I'm rich, you poor boob. Why aren't you?" It's an insult, that's what it is. An insult!

But you get even when your correspondent returns and you have a chat with his wife and she says: "Well, I wouldn't say it to Bill, because he just loves that place. But I never was as hot in my life. And the mosquitoes! Give me my back porch, in easy reach of the ice box."

So you ease over toward Bill and make a remark or two about how pleasant it's been at home. Little warm at midday, of course. What do you expect in July? But nice cool nights. And comfort at home, with no insect pests.

He may remark that he'd been getting the Atlanta papers and checking the temperatures, but you can laugh that off. It wasn't half as hot, you maintain, as the official temperatures indicated. In fact, while he'd gone off, Atlanta was a real summer resort.

So you're all square. Bill's postcard made you envious. Your stalwart lie makes him almost wish he hadn't gone away. There's nothing which builds stronger friendships than making each other feel bad.

Bankers' Hours.

Wage and hours law has caused number of smaller town banks to announce they'll close at 3 p. m. instead of 4.

Atlanta banks open at 9 and close at 2. Five hours! Soft snap. "Bankers' hours." Swell

Not many customers know a bank job starts much earlier than 9 and lasts much later than 2. Indeed, the real work only gets going after the doors are closed.

I know one local bank which requires all officers—except the big shots off to Europe or somewhere—to report at 8 a. m. For a conference. They discuss this and that for an hour before routine business starts. Then they're all set for the day. Personally, I never could understand why it requires an hour's conference every morning to teach a vice president how to say "No." They must be a dumb lot. But they've learned.

RADIO ROOM

Purely personal brag: Three letters from ministers of the gospel —of three denominations. And all nice. No complaints.

Ive always trembled lest some of my piffle would bring down upon my head maledictions from the pulpit, because I rather lean to the liberal side. As an American citizen I hold to the belief that the sinful element is entitled to representation.

But the Atlanta ministry—or that part of it which reads columns—seems broad, or generous in its views. Or perhaps the preachess have more important matters to bother about.

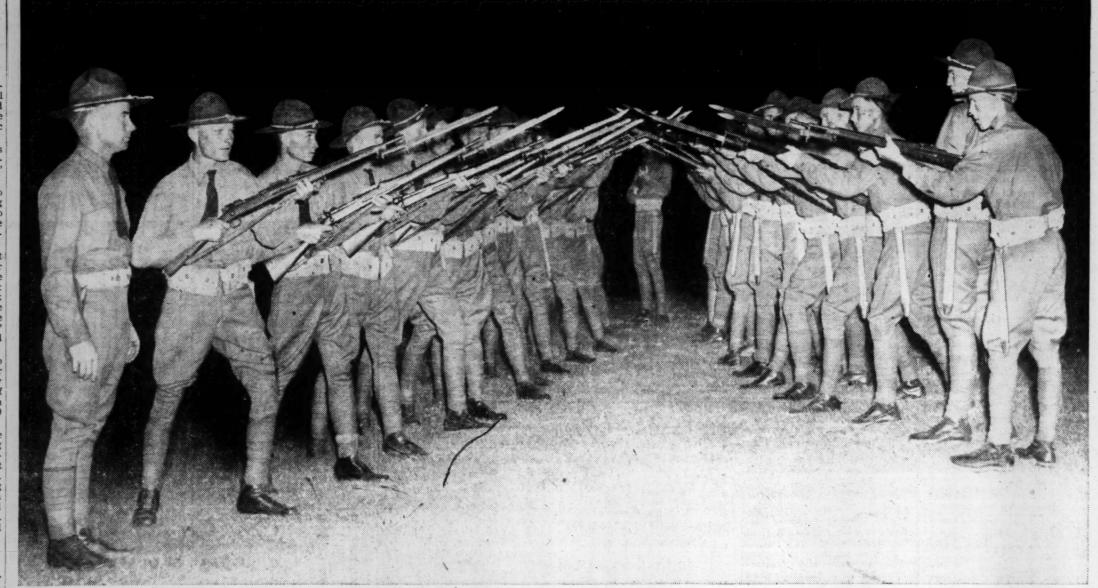

Safety Council points out to young and old swimmers of America that "water can be dangerous." Just what Uncle Jeems Peavy, whose stomach requires frequent doses of Rabun county painkiller, has been telling us for years.

Because I have several times referred to various forms of viands, comestibles—or good things to eat, if you prefer that—a postcard from Lafayette, Ga., asks whether I like tomato catsup.

How can I tell? I've never been able to get any out of the narrow-neckled bottle before the rest of the food got cold.

I can think of five or six excruciatingly funny comments on that but I've got no place to go but home.

Georgia Guard Preparing for Eventualities

No Definite Action Foreseen Until After Maneuvers.

By KENNETH TURNER.

The men who run the National Guard in Georgia don't know what's coming next in this huge program of national defense but you can bet your last dollar they are getting ready for any eventuality and come what may, Georgia's unit will be ready.

And while the news out of Washington Tuesday said the War Department is planning to call into service at least half of the state guard—approximately 2,300 officers and men—for a 12 months' training period, the feeling here was that nothing would happen until after the maneuvers which get under way next week in Louisiana and Texas and extend through August 24.

Meanwhile, things were hum-

Meanwhile, things were humming at the state military department on Confederate avenue as Adjutant General John E. Stoddard, head of the National Guard here, returned to his desk after three weeks spent in training at Pensacola, Fla., with the 214th coast artillery antiaircraft.

At Full Strength.

The adjutant general, while declining to be quoted to just what will be the outcome of the move to enlist the guard, did say that no enlistment of men is planned at this time as Georgia's National Guard strength is approximately at its quota of 4,756 enlisted men

There was a feeling among some military observers that if the increase in men is ordered, the enlistments would probably come from the conscription list if it is approved by congress.

Ready for Call.

Meanwhile, reports reaching this office from correspondents where national guard units are located indicated they were ready for the BAINBRIDGE—A majority of the officers and enlisted men, as well as their employers, are ready in case the local platoon is mobilized. Holcombe, commanding officer of Company "G," 121st Infantry, said employers were reacting favorably to prospects for the call and the men and officers were ready although there were prospects of some reduction in ranks if the call to colors is issued because of the withdrawal of married men with dependents.

HAWKINSVILLE — The local unit of the 121st Infantry—both men and officers—seem eager to respond to any call for service, Captain P. C. Amos reported. He said that while the unit's quota may be reduced by the withdrawal of married men, there are sufficient recruits on the waiting list

The investigation was initiated by Assistant Attorney General John Rogge in co-operation with the office of the United States District Attorney Lawrence Camp, of Atlanta. Mr. Rogge was out of town today and unavailable for comment. In his absence the Department of Justice, in response to questions as to the status of the Georgia inquiry, denied that it had been called off, but admitted that some of the government investigators sent to the state in connection with the inquiry had been re-

Threat of War Fails To Spur Marriages Here

Fulton county couples are not being stampeded into marriages by the threat of an international crisis, or if they are, they are adroitly concealing their motives and no real rush has developed as it has in other sections of the country, it

Although Miss Mary Lee Shirley, marriage license clerk in the office of Judge Thomas H. Jeffries, has listened to thousands of couples converse as they publish their ntention to become man and wife, thus far she has not yet heard the prospect of war mentioned as a

The fact remains, however, that marriage license applications filed for July through Tuesday totaled 315, more than May this year and just 58 short of the 373 issued for June, this year.

This is not anything like a record, it was explained, as news reorts, from Boston emphasized that approaching conscription of for army service is believed to have stimulated record marriages not only in Boston, but in cities and towns throughout the

A survey of the marriage records in the ordinary's office showed that 1,586 aplications for marriage licenses have been issued this year through Tuesday, which is not an exceptional figure. · Shell's Balancing Shell's 2 NEW gasolines I'm mighty glad I'm a Shell Dealer in the Atlanta area. I've got what the motoring public has been looking for and is going to keep on buying. Shell's two new gasolines packed with power... Super Shell and Shell Premium.

My sales increases show where the gasoline business is going in 1940. It's going up . . . right up to Shell's yellow-and-red pumps. And I'll be at the pump as usual with that quick, thorough Shell service that takes the muttering out of motoring.

I'm certainly mighty glad that Atlanta is now the headquarters for Shell throughout the great South. These two new gasolines... New Super Shell and New Shell Premium are really home-town propositions now.
